ANSWER THE ALARM!

Norway People Should not Delay.
If your kidneys are inflamed,
Don't stand around and do nothing.
Like a fire it will soon be beyond control.

You will get the alarm in time—
Backache, or dizziness or disorders of the urine.

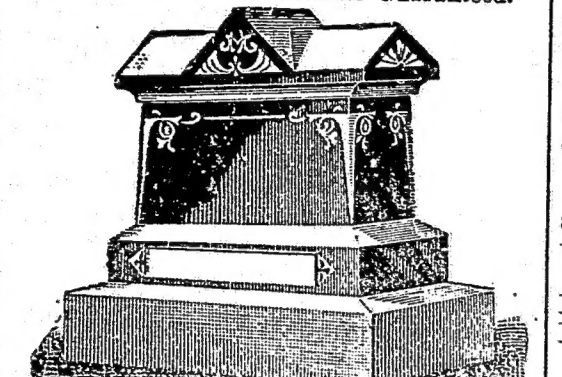

Heed the warning.
Give your kidneys a rest by living more carefully.

Use Doan's Kidney Pills to help stamp out the cause.

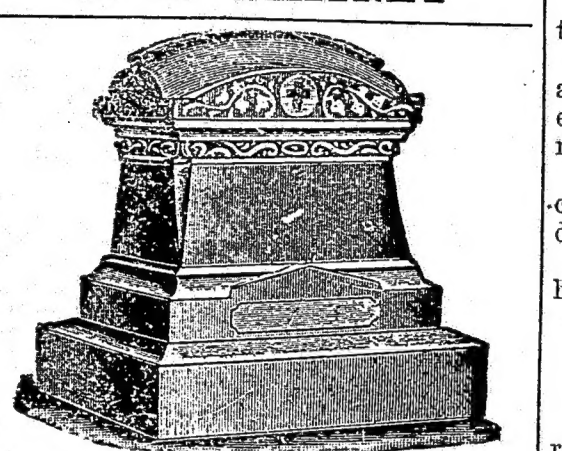

Profit by a Norway woman's experience.
Mrs. Myrtle Payne, Hazen St., Norway, says: "A few years ago I was having pains across my back and kidneys. They annoyed me very much and on stooping or lifting I felt them more. I found Doan's Kidney Pills very good for this trouble. As I used them, the pains gradually lessened. Soon I was practically free from the trouble. I feel that Doan's Kidney Pills are entirely worthy of my recommendation."

BRIDGTON WOMAN COMMITS SUICIDE.

Mrs. Marietta Roberts, aged 61, wife of Charles E. Roberts of South High street, ended her suffering from an illness of about a year's duration when she committed suicide Saturday, the 12th, by drowning in a stream not far from her home.

Laying her hat and outer wrap on the iron bridge that spans the river, she apparently climbed down the framework for a short distance and then plunged headlong into the water. Mrs. Austin Newcomb, a neighbor, was the first to discover the body. She was on the way to church when she found the hat and garment on the bridge and looking downward, she saw Mrs. Roberts' feet sticking out of the water.

Other people in the community were hurriedly summoned and as soon as the body had been removed from the water the three local physicians, worked over it for two hours with a pulmonary pump. When efforts to resuscitate the woman proved unavailing, Dr. George I. Geer of Portland, one of the Cumberland county medical examiners, was notified and came. He reported a formal finding that death was due to suicide by drowning.

Mrs. Roberts was last seen alive at about 9:30, when she announced that she was going to take a walk down the Willett road, on which the bridge is located.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. It is now known that it is curable. A local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly falling to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only cure on record for this case. It is taken internally. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

BIG BARN DOOR SKETCHES

Purely Personal and Mostly About Myself and Early Career.

In the spring of '76 I was assigned to debate the negative on the question "Should the Republican Party be Continued in Power." George H. Townsend then of Biddeford, Maine, had the affirmative.

Both of us were democrats and I always felt I whaled him "out of his boots" at that Public Meeting, but he squared accounts at the graduating exercises the following June, when the same subject was discussed and he had the democratic side of the debate.

I have always felt guilty that I ever attempted such a thing, but he got glory and satisfaction and I got by without being hissed or mobbed by the republican listeners.

I did the best I could and that's all anyone could do.

I was chosen "orator" at the Class Tree-planting exercises and belched fourth fiery invectives regarding Caesar Cicero and Cyrus.

The next morning the tree blossomed out in hoop-skirts and tinware and it became the painful duty of some member of the class of '76 to remove it. There were 13 boys and 5 girls in the class and who lugged off the garbage I cannot now say—I had "orated" and felt I had done my full duty.

The tree died on the arrival of hot weather of summer. The following fall I set out another, which is now living and casting a good deal of shade on the campus. At its base is a glass receptacle in which are the names of the class-members, class motto, colors, etc., and other useless trinkets.

Last June was the 40th anniversary of this class and an effort was made to have a reunion at New Hampton, but only 5 or 6 got there. About one-third had died and the others are widely scattered.

I intended being there, but was prevented by sickness. The glass-ware under the tree should have been "raised" followed by appropriate remarks on "the closing of our unfolding scroll of time, etc."

Few there are who can do much more than amuse their grandchildren forty years after their school graduation. The active days of labor and usefulness have past. It may not be admitted, but it's a fact all the same.

I was offered financial assistance by Prof. Charles S. Flanders and returned to New Hampton as a "post graduate" for the school year of '76-'77.

I was steward of the Club or Boarding House and the receipts from this would hardly, if not quite, pay my way. I depended on the number I could induce to live in the Club, I getting one dollar from each for the buying and having charge of the boarding house.

The attendance was larger and the club was kept to full capacity for the year and I borrowed only $25.00 of Prof. Flanders during the Fall term, which I was able to pay in a few months.

Mrs. Evanna S. Piper, with two small children, Jodie and Kate, had the Club House and did the cooking and the average cost of board per week for a student was about $2.00. The cost for milk was greater than for meat and the former was bought for 4 and 5 cents per quart. (To be Continued.)

Our chariot was slowed down and held up while a log was hauled out of Lee's Pond and into the saw-mill. The road runs over mill-brow, dam, slip and flume. The mill owner evidently has first rights.

Walter possibly could have butted the log out of the way, but didn't feel like interfering with the wheels of industry in New Hampshire and the water waited the slow process of clearing the highway.

This is a state road but the saw-mill got there first.

Stephen Jackard was born in Moultonboro, educated at New Hampton and has sold hardware—not the Kentucky kind—for a Boston firm throughout New England for the past thirty years.

He has a comfortable, white painted cottage called "The Pines" in his native town, also an Indian Oven and a nearby pond filled with fish. He has invited me to call and gave assurance of the latch string being always out.

When I come along he is in Boston, Berlin or Providence and like "the little woolly fox" is soon to return.

I did have a talk with a sister or a sister of his wife, at one time.

Next season I'm going to camp on his trail and run him down.

Isaac Adams, inventor of the power printing press, failed to make Moultonboro "a howling wilderness," but the brown tailed moths and Tom Plant may succeed.

Moultonboro has a good and wise ruler, who holds the destiny and suffrages of his people in the hollow of his hand. When I pass his modest residence I raise my hat and devoutly acclaim: "Long Live King Jim" just the same as I think Dr. W. H. H. Mason would were he living.

Two years ago Jim was much distressed because one vote was cast against him, but on the 7th he wiped out this opposition and was unanimously elected to the legislature.

Tom Daly of Albany, N. H. owned a postoffice. It was before the R. F. D.'s gobbled up those useful institutions. Over the door of a much weather stained house, on a knoll, side to the road was this sign: "Tona-Post-Office." That name implies ownership as it says so.

Ben Franklin, a Boston run-away of early date, and publisher of a Wise Guy Almanack said, "He who at the plow would thrive, must either hold or drive." If Poor Richard was now living, he would have to do both as well as attend Grange meetings, without for woman's suffrage and borrow money to pay his taxes.

Fortunately he passed along before the advent of the steam plow and the road-roller!

I passed the grave and the home of the late Dudley Leavitt, New Hampshire's Almanack maker and astronomer. When a boy I was told "he slept in a hog's trough and wrote almanacs." He lived in Meredith a little way off the main road towards the Lake as you go to Center Harbor.

I notice a mail-box bearing his name at the road junction and I take it to be a grandson of the old astronomer and that the farm is still occupied by Leavitt. Let us go hope, as school-master Leavitt was popular and useful and had many friends here three-quarters of a century ago.

I know nothing of the present Leavitt, but assume he is a farmer and travels up the cork-screw trail, leading to his house.

Warren Kimball with a pair of horses and hired man, ploughed the field and garden. Walter followed in the furrow and picked angle worms; the kind used for catching horned-pouts and eels. A fallow or less were harvested and I'm to take them to Norway for winter fishing, provided I can get the U. S. Angle-worm Inspector of Boston to give a permit to carry them into Maine.

Gramma has been Hallowe'ened and Birthdayed while here. She bought the former by giving a dollar for the Cheong Schoolhouse clock and the latter comes as a surprise, because she was born November 2d and recorded in a birthday album. Great time! Hot house flowers, pink paper, frosted cake and candles! I purposely refrain from giving the age, as that isn't polite and too, I'm a great lover of peace.

I hunted for Indian implements of the stone age the other day, and succeeded in finding a smoothing tool, a quartz arrow-head and a stone bread knife. It was in Frank Mudgett's Upper Dam field where beans had been raised this season.

A sick man has little chance to recover when among friends. He is continually being urged to eat this, that and the other and told what to do and what not to do. He loses courage and sighs for relief.

When I saw a big pile of stove-wood, I'm told I've overworked to my injury, and when the pile is small it's positive proof of ill health and failing strength. There you have it and what can you do about it?

The fall plowing is done also the breaking up, and the garden patch is seeded down. The house will soon be closed for the winter.

The folks will go to Lowell, Mass., where there are many church spires, some factory bells and steam whistles, and eat up the vegetables raised this season.

I trust they will all return with the coming of the birds next spring.

Don't talk band! Organize one and then go to it. There is ten dollars waiting for you. It's in my inside coat pocket and more money if needed, provided you don't get your rehearsal room within four blocks of Printing Office Square.

"An effort is being made by the parents to secure a 'Grafonola' for the Upper Primary School.—News item in last week's Advertiser.

What on earth is that? Can a box-trap be used? What will be done with it? If secured, better take it to Crockett Ridge Schoolhouse and cook it over their oil stove.

I knew something awful was to happen this month, I saw the new moon over my left shoulder.

Some interesting stories in prose and rhyme were told by the ladies.

NORWAY AND VICINITY.*NORWAY GRANGE FAIR.

The Grange Fair, held Thursday afternoon and evening in their hall, was a decided success both socially and financially. Mild weather along with weeks of hard work on the part of the members, having Mrs. Elton Brown, Mrs. Ned Packard and Lelia Watson as General Committee, proved the right combination that attracted a large attendance throughout the afternoon and evening.

Decorations of crepe paper in white, blue and pink, tastefully hung from the dome boarder or draped over the windows, doors and stage front, each booth being embellished with the same color scheme.

The afternoon crowd clustered about the several booths where their patronage was generous. Mrs. Grace Dunn, Ethel Dunn, Helen Noyes, Florence Grover and Mrs. Emma Packard presided over the Parcel Post table, which was well supplied with various packages well worth the price asked.

An apron table with gingham and pants nicely displayed was in charge of Mrs. Mary Oxnard, Mrs. Alice Marston and Mrs. Clara Dunn.

A sight that would make your mouth water for a boiled dinner was the vegetable table piled high with squashes, apples, beets, cabbage, turnips and other garden truck of quality. At this table were Mrs. Arthur Buck, Mrs. Addie Thurston, W. O. Perry and Eugene French.

Home made candy was in great demand from the booth presided over by Mrs. Viola Abbott, Mrs. Ethel French, Mrs. Lizzie Howe, Mrs. Katherine Morrill, Minnie Upton and Ida Merrill.

Useful fancy articles were sold from a table in charge of Mrs. Beryl Russell, Zilpha Prince, Lizzie Cox, Mrs. Irma Rose and Mrs. Mildred Goodwin.

Ice cream and lemon sherbet served in dainty glasses attracted many nickels. Those caring for this table were Mrs. Maude Decoster, Mrs. Emma Swan and Mrs. Florence Anderson.

A free entertainment was given during the sale with the following program, under the direction of Mrs. William Young and Mrs. Eva Jackson.

At 6:30 a chicken pie supper with salads, doughnuts, tarts, pumpkin pies and a great variety of real home cooking was served to two hundred and seventy-five hungry people. It is impossible to describe the Grange supper and do justice to the occasion. The ladies' excellent cooking is too well known to require any other comment, than the fact that this spread was in no wise inferior to similar menus offered before, being of the highest quality. Mrs. George Richardson had charge of the sewing with several assistants, while Mrs. A. J. Richardson cared for the dining room, having ten tables and twenty waitresses.

The evening entertainment in the hall attracted a crowd that occupied every seat with standing room at a premium. They even accepted positions in the hallway or any other place where the stage could be seen. Kimball's orchestra of seven pieces opened the program with a selection "Southern Melodies," and an interesting list of numbers followed as arranged by Mrs. Annie Goodwin and Gladys Abbott.

An orchestra selection brought to a close one of the most successful affairs given by the Grange in this town. About one hundred and seventy-five dollars was realized, so the members feel as if their efforts were fully appreciated by the townspeople.

A Norway Hunter Sighted a Near Fox

Harry A. Packard and three other sportsmen with guns, were autoing toward Oxford Thursday after game. As they were passing the Eliza Whitman place, "Creepers" Cross' little red spaniel ran across the road into the opposite field. The hunters were positive a fox had crossed their path, so brought the car to a halt and drew bead on the innocent canine. Just before the fatal shot was made "Creepers" appeared on the scene, and in accents loud and clear delivered his ultimatum, also explained in well chosen English the difference between a fox and a dog. The party "folded their tents like the Arab and silently stole away" as we learned in our school readers.

Harry M. Goodwin on Pike Hill has been readjusting his poultry business, so is now reduced to about 500 laying pullets, a large number coming from the Lone Pine strain. Mr. Goodwin has thirteen incubators which will be set to work early next spring to fill orders for old chicks. He states that he can sell every live bird that these machines can send out.

George R. Howe is fixing things snug and tight about his place on the top of Pike Hill, being all ready for cold weather. He says the wind blows like sixty at times, but it is pure ozone, thus beneficial.

Mrs. M. Alice Oxnard and niece, Miss Elsie A. Favour, who have been at Logansport, Ind., with Mrs. Oxnard's brother, Henry Tucker, since April, 1915, are to spend the winter in Topeka, Kansas, with Mrs. Oxnard's son, Horace C. Oxnard. They expect to leave Logansport Nov. 20.

Robert Schenk, proprietor of "The Lone Pine Farm" has on hand about 500 B. B. of his own strain, of which 150 are cockrels. Probably 350 layers will be wintered, including many fine birds selected for the breeding pens. Advanced orders for more than one thousand and spring eggs have been received to date.

Daniel W. Goodwin of the Orchard Farm has been doing considerable grading about his buildings. The slope near his house has been cut back and leveled with the yard, and an elevated driveway from the main road to barn built up. Later a cement abutment wall will be put in, beside many other repairs are contemplated next spring.

Speedy and Easy Riding

There's little comfort in most low priced cars. You can't use their speeds. They jostle you—they ride roughly—they don't hold the road.

The $635 Overland is different. It is not only the speediest of low priced cars—

But you can use the full speed of its powerful motor when you need it.

F. H. BECK, Dealer, Norway, Maine

It has long 42-inch, easy riding, shock absorbing cantilever rear springs. In addition the 75 B Overland is a longer car—104-inch wheelbase. And it has 4-inch tires.

Its smoothness and ease of riding at any speed would do justice to a much larger and heavier car.

Come in and let us demonstrate. That's the best kind of proof.

The learned physicians who have been hunting for the infantile paralysis germ for the past year or two, were shocked a few days ago by an announcement from a Massachusetts expert who declares that there isn't any germ which produces this disease but that it is caused by the fumes of partially consumed gasoline, such as come from automobiles.

The Massachusetts man points out the likeness between the symptoms of infantile paralysis and those of gas poisoning. He stated that his investigations led him to believe that the disease is most prevalent along the routes of automobiles. Little children who live and play along these routes inhale the fumes and are not strong enough to resist them.

Carroll McAllister was at home last Sunday from East Stoneham, where he is working for V. H. Littlefield.

MISTAKEN FOR DEER

Clarence Campbell of Worthley Mills, three miles or so above Rumford, was shot accidentally Wednesday morning while hunting, being mistaken for Harry Marston of Mexico for a deer.

Mr. Campbell and his companion, Charles Dane, were hunting in Roxbury back of the Ben Rich farm, when the accident occurred. The shot entered Mr. Campbell's side and he lived but about five minutes. The news was carried by Mr. Dane and Mr. Marston to the neighbors, who rushed to the woods to bring the body to the nearest house, but in the excitement the man's name was not learned.

Mr. Campbell was the son of J. L. Campbell, and has always made his home in that vicinity. He was about forty years old and leaves a widow, who is the daughter of Willard Eastman and two children, aged six and ten respectively. Mr. Campbell has a wide circle of friends, who speak highly of his fine character and sterling integrity.

Mr. Marston, who fired the fatal shot was not aware that other hunters were in that vicinity. He was an object moving through the brush and feeling certain that it was a deer, raised his rifle and fired.

Mr. Marston is the son of the late Walter Marston of Mexico. He is about 20 years old. The medical examiner decided it a clear case of accidental shooting.

REDDING BOY MISTAKEN FOR A DEER

Clifton Rowe aged fifteen, son of C. H. Rowe of Redding, was accidentally shot by his brother Merton while hunting near their home Wednesday morning. The young men entered the woods and separated, thinking it to be a quicker way of locating game. Merton heard a sound in the bushes and fired, the bullet entering the boy through the bowels.

He was taken medical aid as quickly as possible, but died late in the afternoon.

By order of the County Attorney Albert Bellevue of Rumford, an autopsy was performed Thursday by Medical Examiner Herman L. Bartlett of Norway. From the evidence at hand the case appears to be purely accidental and no arrests have been made.

Success Follows Persistence

I have yet to hear of an advertiser who has persistently, judiciously and intelligently advertised for any considerable length of time, and has supported that advertising in the proper conduct of his business in other directions who has not succeeded.

Loss through advertising is largely due to inadequate support, indifferent or useless extravagance.

Your business, like your soil, must not be allowed to lie fallow. It is a law of nature that where we receive much, we must give something in return.

Your soil will wear out if you do not fertilize and properly care for it. Your business will run down if you do not advertise and keep it in a healthy state of cultivation.

It is activity that causes growth and development; in fact, it is activity that makes us strong.

An active advertising campaign will make your business healthy and strong. Try it intelligently and back up your statements with the goods or service. This is important.

May Be So! Why Not?

NORTHEAST LOVELL

Mrs. Mary Stanford passed away at her late home here, early Thursday morning.

For the past eleven years she has been in failing health and gradually grew worse until the end came.

Mrs. Stanford was born October 4, 1853 in Lovell, the daughter of Benjamin Russell and Ellen Hamblin Russell. She attended the public schools of Lovell and has lived in Lovell all her life.

On November 9, 1872 she was united in marriage to William Stanford of Portland and to them were born five children, one child passed away when very young, and the four who survive her are George Stanford of Brockton, Mass., Mrs. Percy Frisbee of Rochester, Mass., Edward Stanford of Cooper's Town, New York and Charles, who has always lived at home and has helped take the very best of care of his mother in her long time of sickness.

Mrs. Stanford was a member of the Center Lovell Christian Church. She was a woman who aimed the best things in life, she was devoted to her home and its cares and lived a life of usefulness. She was a worker in any movement that was for the benefit of the community in which she lived and one that will be greatly missed.

The funeral was held at her church Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. Mr. C. H. Fisher officiated, speaking beautiful words of comfort to the family. Mrs. Stanford leaves besides her husband and children to mourn their loss, two brothers and one sister, besides many friends.

SOUTH WATERFORD.

Bear Mountain Grange

Bear Mountain Grange, No. 62, met in regular session, Saturday evening, November 11th with the Worthy Master, Harold S. Fiske in the chair. After the business session the following literary program was presented by the committee under the leadership of Eva Haggood and John Muller:

Piano solo..... Sister Eva Haggood
Reading..... Sister Eva Haggood
Recitation..... Annie Grover
Reading, "Grandma's Aimee"..... Orpha Sias
Danced..... Eva Haggood and Margaret Sias
Piano duet..... Eva Haggood and Margaret Sias
Reading from "The National Grange Monthly"..... Raymond Saunders

After the program the question, "What can be used as substitutes for meat and potatoes? Suggest some cheap and nutritious foods," which was taken up at our last meeting, was further discussed. Sister Sias opened the talk and was followed by Sister Muller and others.

During the discussion the interesting statement was made by one sister, that about the time of the close of the Civil War she had to pay $22.00 for a barrel of flour and 50c per yard for common calico. At that time she was earning round $65.00 per month.

The general opinion seemed to be that although high in price, there can hardly be any real substitute for meat or potatoes and yet we might be able to reduce the quantity consumed by using more milk, cereals, especially oatmeal and cornmeal mush, and also vegetables and fruit.

There was also some talk by the brothers and sisters on the question, "Whether or no it is better, owing to the high prices to cease to feed grain and let the cows dry up, or to keep on feeding mill products?" Opened by E. K. Kilgore. Most of those present thought they should continue to feed grain if it could be obtained whether they could afford it or not. Many thought they could not afford not to and hoped an increase in the selling price of dairy products might partially make up the increased cost of grain.

The next meeting will be on Saturday, November 25th.

A COMBINATION THAT WORKS WELL

Doing an Immense Amount of Good.

No other medicines possess such curative properties as these two great restoratives, Hood's Sarsaparilla and Peptonin Pills, working together. They reach the impure, impoverished, poisoned, devitalized blood, and the worn, run-down, overworked, exhausted system. They awaken the appetite, aid digestion, purify and vitalize the blood, give renewed strength to the whole body, produce sound, natural sleep, and a complete restoration to good health. Two dollars invested in these two medicines will bring better results than four dollars spent in any other course of treatment or attendance.

It will be wise to get Hood's Sarsaparilla and Peptonin Pills today. They are sold by all druggists everywhere. Accept no substitutes. 200 doses $2.

Relief From Pain

Remove pain misery as many thousands of others have done, by applying Minard's Liniment, an old, reliable prescription. No other remedy acts so quickly or effectively. It is pure and antiseptic, wonderfully soothing, and is the most effective remedy for rheumatic pains, soreness and stiffness of joints and muscles, lameness, sore hands, tired, aching feet, pains in chest, sore throat, and for sprains, strains and bruises. You cannot afford to be without it. It cannot possibly harm or burn the skin.

Winter Underwear

This is the time of year when 80% or more of the men, young men and boys lay aside their light-weight underwear and buy new for the cold and rugged winter, which is bound to come.

For that reason we are placing before you several brands of underwear that you cannot afford to let miss your vision.

Two-piece suits from 50c a garment up to $1.50, from heavy pure wool down to just plain cotton.

One of the most popular garments in the underwear line is the METROPOLITAN Union Suit. They are really delightful by comparison with the ordinary kinds.

They are made on lines just like a tailored suit; the armholes and shoulders are right, it fits the figure without being stretched into shape. Their finishes have a personally selected look. They are made on spring-needle machines and after being laundered return to their former shape.

Metropolitan Union Suits are $1.00 in cotton, $1.50 in one-third wool, $2.00 in one-half wool, and more. They come in all sizes.

OXFORD ELECTRICAL COUNTRY CLUB

At a recent meeting held in the Club House below the Falls near Eugene C. Libby's, the officers for the ensuing year were elected. Pres. Howard B. Young; vice pres, Joseph LaFrance; Sec'y, and Treas., H. Knox Bickford.

This club has been generally advertised, therefore something of a stranger to many not familiar with the doings on lower Main street. Its history is unique, and its mission a social movement in the right direction.

The "boy gatherings" in and about the Electric station has been a serious problem with Superintendent Howard B. Young for a number of years. He attacked the proposition from several angles using warning signs and fatherly advice of a personal nature, but this merely caused up the trouble without effecting a cure. Here were about twenty boys of various ages, who would not remain at home evenings, but congregated somewhere, either at the station or in the grocery store when open. They played no games, but just loafed in a purposeless manner. Superintendent Young sized up the situation and started the club movement which immediately made a hit in the neighborhood. He gave the boys a small building and moved it down Sanborn street to the bank of the brook, where large shade trees offer a fine setting. Extensive repairs were made outside, the interior sheathed with spruce and finished in the natural wood, electric lights were installed and the boys invited to join upon payment of small monthly dues to meet the wood bill and improvement.

The first meeting was held in their new quarters November 10, 1915 and a permanent organization of sixteen members was effected. When the officers were elected Howard was unanimously chosen president amid great enthusiasm and the Steep Falls boys certainly appreciated this gift. The club is a year old and wide awake, with a membership of twenty-five active and several honorary members, with a waiting list for the members is limited to the present number. All of the furnishings have been supplied by the members, and include chairs, tables, desks, pictures and magazines. A baseball diamond was laid out last spring and a tennis court started. They organized a strong ball team, but several of the players were out of town during the summer so no games were played. Last winter a play was rehearsed and produced, the proceeds going to the several branches of work, namely the tennis, baseball and club funds. During the winter months the boys kept open house every evening, but certain restrictions are iron clad. No intoxicating liquors are allowed under any circumstances, and games of every description are barred Sunday. The members realize this club is for gentlemen only.

Her husband kept the first store and she the first hotel in town. Shaw died young. She next married Dennis Hayes and raised 3 children, a son and 2 daughters, who are now living in the village. She kept the hotel for over 40 years.

Now that election is over and the world's people are returning to business and the good housekeeper is scraping the candle grease off the window casing and carpets, it would be well for all persons reading this to look at the credit mark on the address label of this paper. If it indicates "21oct1887" it means that they are more than a year in arrears and that money is wanted at this office. Money or cordwood at market price. "Look at the address label of your paper to-day, it should read "nov7."

If you are a business man, if you are a professional man, if you are employed at a daily wage, make up your mind to deposit weekly a certain sum of money in the bank. You'll be surprised how the sum will grow. Cash in bank gingers up the man who has it there. He has more confidence in himself. The business man is ready for a dull season. He is ready for an opportunity.

So is the professional man. The man who is working for a daily wage and who hasn't any money in bank frequently is fearful of a loss of his situation. He does not work as well or with the confidence in himself as does the man with something laid aside for a rainy day.

THE NEW MUSIC ROOMS

(By Mrs. Z. L. Merchant)

"Music hath charms to soothe the savage break"—Congreve.
And Mr. Freeland Howe is doing his best
To keep us all in a civilized state
By playing his music early and late.
Go to his music rooms some day
And all his records, for you, he'll play.
The great Harry Lander will sing for you
And you'll laugh and cry till he is through;
Harpicured you'll sit on the edge of your chair
While the Peerless Melba is warbling an air;
You must hear Caruso, O that matchless voice!
Then hear Scotti sing and make your choice—
If you buy their records, you'll want many

Of singers who are famous the wide world o'er.
Just a few dollars, think how cheap.
And the songs you buy you can always keep.
If you want to New York to hear them sing
The price you'd pay would ransom a king.
A very big sum they would demand
And very likely you'd have to stand.
But right here in Norway, every day,
You can hear them sing and nothing to pay;
For Mr. Howe with courtesy grace
Invites everybody into his place.

I have the usual large and well selected stock of Victor and Columbia Talking Machines and records. Think of the pleasure you can get and give with a phonograph this winter.

Which Do You Prefer?

It is important for reasons of health and practical economy for every housekeeper to ask herself this question:

"Do I prefer a pure baking powder like Royal, made of cream of tartar derived from grapes, or am I willing to use a baking powder made of alum or phosphate, both derived from mineral sources?"

The names of the ingredients printed on the label show whether the kind you are now using or any brand, new or old, that may be offered is a genuine cream of tartar powder, or merely a phosphate or alum compound.

Royal Baking Powder contains no alum nor phosphate.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT

Judge—A. R. Savage of Auburn.
Clerk of Court—Ernest J. Record, South Paris.

Messenger—L. W. Clark, South Paris.
Sheriff—W. O. Frothingham, South Paris.
Jailer—John Titus, South Paris.
Stenographer—W. W. Conforth, Auburn.

The last session of the October term, suspended from October 18 to November 13, was continued upon the arrival of the 3:35 train from Portland. Not over twelve were present when his honor appeared in court and Sheriff W. O. Frothingham announced the formal opening.

The first and only case to be called during the remainder of the afternoon was that well known controversy, Rumford and Mexico Bridge District versus the Bridge Company. Lucian W. Blanchard representing the respondents and Hon. Geo. D. Bisbee of the law firm, Bisbee & Parker for the defendants. The counsel for both parties presented an agreement to the court requesting that a commissioner be appointed to investigate the question of Rumford and Mexico Bridge District versus the Bridge Company, recommending Judge A. R. Savage, Ex Governor Wm. T. Cobb and Paul D. Sargent. The request was granted and December 4, 1916, the date for said examination.

This case developed from a proposed transaction, where the newly created Rumford & Mexico Bridge District endeavored to take over the bridge across the Androscoggin River connecting the sister towns. The Mexico Bridge Co. was an older corporation, but the terms were not satisfactory, so a report of the County Commissioners was filed at the March term of the present year. A motion that the report be dismissed was filed by the Bridge Co., also they presented another plea that if the Supreme Judicial Court over ruled said motion, the above company would appeal from the award of the County. The court, after considerable legal juggling the case was continued by agreement without prejudice to the rights of either party, and at the May session the whole thing went up to the Law Court on report. On August 11, 1916, a mandate of the said court advanced the case for further proceedings in accordance with the opinion. This was later a notice was filed of appeal from the award, and a request for a committee to assess damages, this brought the argument back to the present term. A settlement mutually agreeable appears near at hand.

The official work Tuesday was disposed of quickly. Patrick J. Harrington, who has been in the County Jail since March, being convicted for the murder of Thomas W. Prece, was brought before the court and sentenced to life imprisonment at Thomaston. He appealed from the verdict at the March term, but was not financially able to continue the case. He was then ordered to the county jail to await the result of the appeal.

The Stuart-Sampson Controversy

This well known case was opened in the County Buildings directly after the court adjourned Tuesday forenoon. Justice A. R. Savage presiding. George E. Bird, Jr. represented the respondents, Alton C. Wheeler of South Paris and F. A. Morey of McSherry. The defendants' interest was represented by Joseph H. Stuart of South Paris, while Albert J. Stearns and Walter L. Gray protected the defendant's interest. The action is brought by Stuart on two writs, one against Mrs. Sarah E. Cole, who is made to defend her title to a certain parcel of land, and the other where Mell Sampson is held for trespass on the same parcel.

The litigation is over a narrow strip of shore land bordering the northern side of the C. B. Cummings & Sons' mill pond in Norway village. Roughly speaking, the line, as traced by Mr. Stuart, begins at an iron pin on the road line at the junction of Main and Pleasant streets, perhaps two rods in front of the George A. Cole house, then southwesterly to a fence post north of the road leading to the public boat landing. A diagonal course is taken across the said road to another iron pin near the north side of the original corner, thence in a straight line through the corner of Sampson's boat house to the shore. The line continues up the bog above high water mark to a stone wall, running down to the shore from the southern boundary of Orchard Grove or the Don Seitz purchase. The defendants disclaim this survey.

Early deeds were introduced, being the conveyances of Henry Rust of Rustfield to Samuel Ames, June 25, 1802, and field to Nathan Foster August 25, 1803, also other transfers dating March 27, 1805. A copy of Henry Rust's will was brought out dating July 10, 1812, covering the parcel in question and surrounding land as given to his son, John Rust. Other deeds were produced that explained the general breaking up of the original Ames farm, into smaller parcels, that fell to the Bennetts and the Posters, the Parsons and Hobbs, to Ezra Beal, Geo. Jones, Henry Bearre, and others, down to C. B. Cummings & Sons, George Cole, the Norway-Paris Railway, then to the plaintiff.

During the noon recess, all concerned visited the grounds and viewed the lines and markers so had a comprehensive idea of the boundaries in question.

At the continuation of the hearing Mr. Stuart explained the original lines described in the early deeds from surveyors' drawings made by himself some years ago, when acting as civil-engineer for various parties. He testified that he had been familiar with the shore front since 1879.

At that time no boat houses were in evidence but a small landing used by Geo. A. Cole, and no bars or gate had been used, except on minor occasions to keep the public from using this shore strip. In making the survey, Mr. Stuart followed the line first given by the 1792 and 1803 deeds closely, with an exception of using a level and not a chain. This method did not bring the points exactly as the documents indicated, yet immaterial to the case. As a result of the survey a strip of land now in controversy was lost, which is not accounted as a separate parcel in deeds held by the Cole heirs. Said Cole documents being the original transfer of Samuel Ames to his son, Baker Ames, thence by a warranty deed, given to Horatio Cole in 1852, and descended to George A. Cole in 1872, then later to his heirs now defending their title.

Mrs. Sarah Cole was on the stand nearly an hour, and gave strong proof of the ownership as understood in the family, aside from the legal documents. According to the witness, she went to live in the present Cole homestead in 1870, but in 1872 the homestead which included the mill lot, so called, came into her husband's possession. Some time was consumed with data concerning occupancy of the boat houses and payment thereof, events going back to the launching of the old Pennesseewassee side wheeler and its wharfage. A ledger and diaries were put in evidence, also the will of the late George A. Cole.

A fact was brought out that the Oxford Electric Company, who own the wharf privilege have not paid a fowage damage as they have added flush boards, but in lieu installed two lights without cost in Mr. Cole's stable, also issued passes on the electric until his decease.

George A. Brooks and Melville Sampson occupied the stand and testified to their personal knowledge of a general understanding of the acknowledged ownership, also regarding the securing the permission to occupy the wharf and right of way. Stephen B. Cummings and Edwin Cummings stated receiving from Mr. Cole to pile logs along the shore front, and was substantiated by their bookkeeper, George H. Cullinan, who witnessed the payment of twenty dollars for said privilege.

W. H. Jenne, civil engineer of South Paris, testified to having retraced the lines as per deed given by the Ames heirs to Horatio H. Cole in 1852 and other deeds of a later date, which upholds the defendant's argument. Four maple trees forming one corner, were dwelt upon to some length, as Mr. Morey appeared somewhat in doubt as to the probable age of said important marker.

As there was no probate record of the death of Baker Ames, Henry B. Foster took the stand for the purpose of stating the date of an inscription seen on the tombstone of Ames in Rustfield cemetery. He also set the date of the erection of the Stevenson boat house and was substantiated by George L. Noyes. At this point a lease given by Mr. Cole to said Stevenson was introduced as an exhibit and accepted. George W. Holmes, first selectman of Norway, was questioned regarding land assessments and payment of taxes on this Cole homestead during his time in office. Howard B. Young, who has been in the employ of the Electric Company for twenty-two years, and superintendent during the past fourteen years, admitted an arrangement between the company and the late George Cole regarding free lights and passes as payment for fowage damage on land claimed by plaintiff. The pass book was not now in force but the lights remained, which verified Mrs. Cole's statements in that matter.

Frederick A. Cole, son of Horatio A. Cole, proved an interesting witness for his mind was taken back to childhood when he lived in the Ames house (the small house in the rear of the present Cole residence, which is rented). He remembered distinctly the original picket fence. It ran from the Ames house toward Main street, then turned at a right angle and passed along by the mill house to the pond. The present boat landing road was the middle of a large garden used by his father, and no opening or gate applied until many years afterward, at which time, the present long boat house had been built and a passage way made to accommodate the occupants. This was understood by all concerned to be on the former Ames line as the 1852 deed describes. James True proved that for George Cole several years ago improving the shore line with rocks and other material suitable for filling in and at that time there never seemed to be any question of ownership.

The session opened with Mr. Stuart on the stand to verify lines run by the Cummings mill leases from the Wallace company were also put in as evidence by the plaintiff.

Albert J. Stearns occupied more than an hour in presenting the contention of his clients to the court. He gave a clear historical and legal outline, starting from the Rust transfer to Samuel Ames, then the deal with Baker Ames, later the deed given to Horatio Cole in 1852, which carefully and plainly bounded the purchase, and upon which the defendants are trying to hold their title intact. Mr. Stearns made a point in his statement that Clara Ames Hayden, now over ninety years old, daughter and only living heir of Baker Ames, cannot remember when the lines were not as the deed describes. The session was continued by Mr. Stuart, who stated that the lines were understood as such by the father and grandfather Samuel. In his argument he further stated that if the Rust boundaries had been misunderstood by the Ames in their instruments given, the Cole heirs were entitled to their rights under the laws of continuous occupation. He mentioned shore improvements, boat houses, log piling and fowage damages which has extended over a period of more than forty years, many legal opinions were cited to substantiate the line of argument. Mr. Morey in his argument based the whole question upon the first Henry Rust deed and the probable intentions of the grantor for describing so minutely the shore lines leaving out the strip bordering the pond.

He contended that the Rusts were business men, and saw the need of shore privileges because of the logs and possible fowage damages, thus made the reservation. If said Ames included this in his conveyance he was disposing of it and the Rusts were not. Finally he did not understand the terms of his purchase, and without any intention of wrong, sold to the pond, but as Mr. Morey stated, the Rust heirs are legally entitled to this strip as purchased from them, and the Electric Company by Mr. Stuart.

The decision is reserved.

The Democrats of northern Cumberland County had a celebration Tuesday evening of the National victory of the party. During the late afternoon a special train carried a large party from Bridgton to Harrison, accompanied by the Woodman's Band. At Harrison there was a short parade, and then the reinforced crowd went to Bridgton. Buildings along the Main street had been liberally decorated with flags and bunting, and a large quantity of red fire was burned as the parade passed by. The grand climax was a clam supper in the banquet hall of Riverside Hotel, the bounteous feed being followed by brief speeches.
